

Transplant Services

Getting a transplant can be scary, but you don't have to go through it alone. Our transplant services program is here to help. Our care management specialists will help to explain your choices. They will answer your questions and will help with travel and lodging. They will also help you through any step of the process. They support you from the first referral until up to a year after your transplant. This lets you think about what is most important—your healing and recovery. You can also take comfort because our contracted doctors share our belief in total patient care.

The Transplant Process

Once you get a referral for a transplant, our care management specialist will have it reviewed. Our care management specialist will work with you and your family. They will answer any questions and help you get ready for the transplant. The transplant case manager can assist in giving information on the transplant centers of excellence.

The Transplant Network

We contract with Optum Network which has many transplant Centers of Excellence in the country. The centers are evaluated each year and must meet strict measures. This is to help ensure their quality. Some measures include the number of transplants done each year. Also measured are the outcomes, and the individual credentials of the doctors. The transplant facilities are located at major medical centers and hospitals all over the United States. They provide services for both adults and children. You can get a list of them from your care management specialist.

Transplant Types

Our transplant program is for patients who have a medical diagnosis or conditions that are appropriate for transplantation of:
